

BAZOO GOSSIP.

The Dakota divorce law is becoming a continental scandal. Any dissatisfied husband or wife who can raise money to buy a railroad ticket there and pay three months' board, acquires a "residence" for the purpose of prosecuting a divorce suit. By collusion, it is as easy to get a divorce under this system as it is to get married in the first place, when both parties are agreed.

The following pleasant and unusual experience happened to a party of well-known American girls, who were traveling in Europe last summer, says the Rochester Post-Dispatch. Its truth, of course, can be vouched for. The story is told by one of the young ladies:

"On our way to Edinburgh we stopped over a train at Stirling to see the castle, and there an adventure befell us of which I will tell you. When we got out of the train and were looking about for the ways and means of reaching the castle, we were accosted by a tall, fine-looking, middle-aged man, who asked if we were not from 'the other side of the water.' We said 'yes,' and that we wanted to get to the castle. He said that he was going there and would be glad to show us the way, and also to show us his old family house, which was close by. We got into the carriages, and our new friend mounted the box beside the driver, and on we went. We finally stopped before a quaint old house, with coats of arms carved in stone, and he led us into the courtyard, which was very quaint and old. He said the palace was called 'Argyle Lodge,' and then added: 'Perhaps I ought to tell you who I am. I am Lord Lorne, the last of the house of Argyle!' He then took us all over the castle, the old Grey Friars' church and rushed us about so that we saw twice as much as we could possibly have seen by ourselves, for he knew just what was worth seeing and could shake off the guide when he started on his long, rambling story. Lord Lorne was perfectly lovely, and we have all lost our hearts to him, and have serious designs, first upon the life of the Princess Louise, his wife—and then upon each other."

The report that Oliver Perry, the Central Hudson train robber, was identical with Orth Stein—a report which was denied almost as soon as it was published—has directed attention again to that picturesque and accomplished criminal who is now living in Atlanta, Ga. Stein is doing newspaper work under the protecting wing of the Young Men's Christian Association. He was arrested near Atlanta last fall for a crime committed in the north. While in jail he interested a number of earnest Christians who gave bail for him and employed counsel in his defense. Stein is a remarkable criminal. His career of wickedness began in Kansas City, with the murder of Frederick, and he has been in half of the prisons of the country. He is bright and plausible. He has done some very good newspaper work, and his talents would have won for him a good living if he had not chosen to misuse them. If you will look in one of the later volumes of Steadman's Library of American Literature you will find a short poem of Stein's "The Skater." It is as follows:

Beneath her skates the curved steel bars
Semed like two naked scimitars
That gleam about the sandals in
The sword dance of the Bedouin
And all around her flying feet
The ice mist flew unceasingly:
As free she was and full as fleet
As sea gulls skimming o'er the sea.
It was the sea in differ't guise.
Like Mercury she wore her wings,
And deem within her fearless eyes
There lived the soul of flying things.

One of the interesting developments at the State capital last week, says the St. Louis Republic, was the fact that Mr. Charles E. Yeater, of Sedalia, would be a candidate for the State Senate from the Fifteenth District, composed of the counties of Saline, Pettis, Benton and Hickory. The present incumbent, Senator Richardson, is a citizen of Benton county, and it is claimed that the next nominee should come from Pettis, since the preceding senator was from Saline. The last senator from Pettis county was Hon. John T. Heard, who retired in 1884 to become a member of congress. Mr. Yeater is a young man, but has served faithfully as city attorney and as a chairman of the democratic committee of his county. He is a gifted orator, a graduate of the state university and understands thoroughly the wishes of his people. The Columbia Statesman says of him: "Charles E. Yeater, a prominent young attorney of Sedalia, well known here, is spoken of as a candidate for State Senator from his district. Mr. Yeater is a clever young gentleman, a good lawyer and an honorable man, and should be elected will serve his constituency with ability and distinction."

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

The State Judicial Convention to Be Held July 6th, and the Regular Nominating Convention, 19.

The Delegate Convention at Sedalia, May 11th-1.100 Delegates.

St. Louis, Mo., March 16.—[Special to the BAZOO.]—This is a field day for the politicians of the democratic persuasion, and all parts of the state is represented in very respectable numbers.

The State Central Committee is in session, and fixed the time of holding the State Judicial convention July 6, and the convention to nominate governor and balance of state ticket July 19th.

The convention took a recess, and on reassembling heard Sedalia, Jefferson City and Springfield in behalf of their respective towns in which to hold conventions. Of course, as usual, Jefferson City gave exhibitions of abdominal pains and wanted everything, and claimed usages of the past, and so on.

The committee is now considering the locations, in executive session, with a good show for Sedalia to get one of the three conventions.

LATER.

St. Louis, March 16.—[Special to the BAZOO.]—The state executive committee has finally decided the matter of places for holding the various state democratic conventions.

Sedalia secures the delegate convention, the time fixed being May 11th.

The judicial convention goes to St. Louis.

Jefferson City gets the nominating convention.

STILL LATER.

St. Louis, March 16.—[Special to the BAZOO.]—May 11th is the time chosen for the convention at Sedalia. There will be eleven hundred delegates. The attendance all told will be in excess of twenty-five hundred.

A Prominent Doctor Accused of Murder!

A gentleman recently made a startling accusation in the hearing of the writer. Said he, "I firmly believe that Dr. —, intentionally or unintentionally killed my wife. He pronounced her complaint—Consumption—incurable. She accepted the verdict and died. Yet since then I have heard of at least a dozen cases, quite as far advanced as hers, that have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Her life might have been saved, for Consumption is not incurable." Of course its not. The Discovery will remove every trace of it if taken in time and used faithfully. Consumption is a disease of the blood—a scrofulous affection—and the Discovery strikes at the root of the evil. For all cases of weak lungs, spitting of blood, severe lingering coughs and kindred ailments, it is a sovereign remedy.

The postmaster at Salisbury received a letter from Miss Emma Bell, of Kansas City, stating that the writer was kidnapped when a child of seven by Gypsies and that being cast adrift by them two years ago she was left homeless, without relatives or friends and with no knowledge of her parents for whom she is searching. The letter concludes with an appeal for aid in her search.

A REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUMATISM.

Miss Cage and Sherman of Alexander, Texas, writes us regarding a remarkable cure of rheumatism there as follows: "The wife of Mr. Wm. Pruitt the Postmaster here had been bed-ridden with rheumatism for several years. She could get nothing to do her any good. We sold her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and she was completely cured by its use. We refer any one to her to verify this statement." 50 cent bottles for sale by Aug. T. Fleischman, Druggist.

THE SIXTH DISTRICT.

Two hundred miles long and about as wide as Broadway, New York, is the Sixth congressional district of Missouri. Here is a picture of the district from the Kansas City Star:

THE HATCHET DISTRICT.

It is barely possible that such legislation will bring forth a district that will cut with the edge the hammer end. The democratic members of the Missouri legislature are overdoing the redistricting business, and it may act as a boomerang. Such legislation in other states has been disastrous to the party which enacted it. Democrats of Missouri, look out.

SEDALIA VICTORIOUS.

The House Vote Yesterday Evening Verified and Columbia Badly Demoralized.

Jefferson City, March 16.—[Special to the BAZOO.]—The proceedings of the house this morning were without special interest, notwithstanding the fact that the Columbia contingent made long and loud threats last night of what they intended to do.

No effort was made to question the vote of yesterday evening by which Sedalia was selected as the future location of the state university. An examination of the vote only verifies the figures of last night and shows conclusively that Sedalia received 49 ballots and Columbia 67. There was one scattering vote made by Dr. Abraham of Cass county.

The Columbia people are in a badly demoralized condition of disgruntlement and many of their warmest friends and supporters, admit that the senate is ready to endorse the action of the house by even a more decisive vote. Sedalia is evidently "in it" to a fine finish.

TEXAS MADMAN.

A Pitiful Case of a Doctor Who Without Warning Loses His Mind.

"Who's the Christian?" he shouted nervously clutching at the air, as a line of cars just against the coach which he was occupying.

The affrighted passengers started from their seats as he struggled to loosen himself from the clutches of his guard.

He was crazy. A fine looking man he was and showed by his appearance that he belonged to the better class of society.

He was accompanied by his brother who, with choking voice related the following story:

"This man is my brother and we live in Texas where he practiced medicine for a number of years, 'till a week ago last Friday he was the happiest of men. He had won the confidence of the community both as to integrity and ability as a physician and was enjoying a flattering practice when suddenly without any premonition he became demented like a flash and has since continued in this pitiful state of mind. I am taking him to Dayton, Ohio, where he will be placed in the hands of the best nurses to be found and everything will be done to bring about his recovery."

This was the pitiful story told by the brother, the afflicted one all the while raving incoherently about God and religion. It was a sad sight indeed to witness the pitiful state of the man who a week ago was blessed by prosperity on every hand.

MURDERER ARRESTED.

John Wesley Bright Overhauled By His Pursuers

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 14.—Later reports from the Taney county murder confirm the first rumor that John Wesley Bright has been caught and lodged in the Forsythe jail on the charge of killing his wife. The alleged murderer was hunted down by party of about sixty armed men. Mrs. Bright's maiden name was Gideon, a relative of the family so well known in Christian and Green counties. When Mrs. Bright started for the spring just before her death, Bright took his gun and left the house. Soon the children heard a shot in the direction of the spring. Bright came back to the house in a few moments and told the children that he had been shot at by some one at the spring. He warned them not to go near the spring, as they might get hurt. The man then filled his pockets with eggs, took his gun and left the house. After a while the children went to the spring and found their mother dead. They gave the alarm and the neighbors gathered in and began the search for the suspected murderer.
